

Unfulfilled Dream

of Muhammed Ali Jinnah! 14th Aug 2014

Pakistan is the world 6th most populist country. The World 5th largest nuclear state and has depending on who you ask the 7th or the 5th largest army in the world.

What people keep telling about Pakistan?

Baraq Obama has publicly called us a Cancer, Madeleine Albright is slightly more polite, to her we are just an international migraine and Hillary Clinton who knows something about the subject frequently begins most of her thoughts on Pakistan with "it is not an easy relationship" but...

Sulman Rushadi wants us to declare all 180 millions of us a terrorist state. Zahrah Nasir says Pakistan will soon be renamed 'Talibistan' unless there is an immediate awakening and necessary change is put in place.

Pakistan is a country that is perpetually on the verge of nervously breaking down.

We commemorated Pakistan's Independence Day on August 14. Pakistanis always celebrate this day with passion and dedication. But actually we have all forgotten what our Quaid Muhammed Ali Jinnah said.

August 11, 1947 speech. He said, "We are starting in the days where there is no discrimination, no distinction between one community and another, no discrimination between one caste or creed and another. We are starting with this fundamental principle: that we are all citizens, and equal citizens, of one state."

He stated further, "You are free. You are free to go to your temples. You are free to go to your mosques or to any other places of worship in this state of Pakistan. You may belong to any religion, caste or creed. That has nothing to do with the business of the state."

Even after 68 years, we are not willing to consider the minorities equal citizens of Pakistan as promised to them by the Quaid-e-Azam Muhammed Ali Jinnah, despite the minorities playing their role in the progress of Pakistan.

However, once again, minorities have been completely ignored despite Christian institutions educating many politicians, bureaucrats, judges and generals.

Prayer!

We thank you, our heavenly Father, for learning us how to cry out to you. This is our cry: "Write your name across the heart of Pakistan, have mercy and bring healing to this country."

Your promises last forever; you do not abandon us, you are always searching for the one broken heart. Let us repent, weep and return to you. Hear our cries and change this Nation.

Lord Jesus, come!

The minorities continuously cry out against their mistreatment but since no one is paying any attention, many are fleeing to India and other countries.

We call Culture is an integrated system of learned pattern of behavior, products and ideas linked to shared, values, views of reality, beliefs which are characteristic of a society and (re) produced by its members.

What culture we are living in?

A change in the attitude of politicians is needed more than ever before if Pakistan is to grow into a peaceful and prosperous country. Politicians have failed to protect the minorities and take real steps towards establishing an equal and fair society where all religious communities can live side by side without fear and suspicion.

Tariq Mahmud public policy analyst says Pakistan was a cherished dream for Muslim minority of subcontinent. But after 68 years, it has turned into a nightmare for the minorities living here.

Why would I live in a place where freedom is most needed but is not given?
